- Staffing the birth centre by working independent shifts that provide birth centre coverage 24/7. Shifts are typically 8 hours, with occasional 12-hour shifts required (full and part time position). Shifts rotate for days, evenings, and overnights. You must be willing to work overnight shifts and be comfortable working alone.
- Preparing and cleaning assessment and birthing suites according to OBWC safety standards and protocols, with a heavy emphasis on Infection Prevention and Control Canada (IPAC) standards.
- Assisting midwives, clients, families, and paramedics during labour and birth. This includes but is not limited to: safe storage and food handling/preparation for clients and midwives, using a database for record keeping of sensitive information, on rare occasions, being called in to a birthing suite to document client care, and calling 911 in transfer situations.
- Assisting the OBWC with administrative tasks including re-ordering of supplies, medication reconciliation, and management of client records.
- Light facility cleaning responsibilities including kitchen cleanliness and common space upkeep, in accordance with IPAC standards.
- Facilitating tours to potential clients/families.

Compensation: $20/hr for probation period, $20/hour for 3 months up to one year, $22/hr (1 year+); stipend for on-call work when required; comprehensive benefits and retirement savings plan available after probation period.

Requirements:

- MUST be able to communicate in French; working language is English, but the OBWC is bilingual and all front-line staff must be able to converse comfortably with French clients and midwives. Applicants' cover letters should include reference to level of fluency in French. Some interview questions will be in French.
- Completion of high school or equivalent (GED).
- Experience working in client focused settings is recognized as added value (e.g. hospitality, customer service, personal support worker).
- Certification in CPR and First Aid (can be completed after hiring if necessary).
- Strong administrative skills, including computer literacy (Microsoft Office Suite, database programs), filing, and other record-keeping.

- Must be able to work in, and be sensitive to, adverse environment.
- Ability to work independently and manage time effectively in relation to multiple tasks.
- Ability to remain calm and demonstrate good judgment while working under pressure.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skill.
- Comfortable working alone, including overnight.
- A reliable means of transportation to the Birth Centre within 45 minutes, at all hours (24/7).
- Good general health as the BCA role can be physically demanding.
- Current Police Record Check (can be obtained after hiring).

Please see detailed job description that follows.
